Objectives	This module provides you with the analytical skills to critically investigate the foreign policies of different countries in Europe and beyond from a multi-level perspectives
Content	The first part of the module will introduce the academic field of Foreign Policy Analysis (FPA) and familiarize you with its most important methods and theories. Specifically, the module will cover theoretical approaches on the international, state and individual level of analysis. It will unpack the process of foreign policy decision-making in order to identify the most significant actors and influences on different types of foreign policy decisions. The second part of the module will explore key issues in FPA. It will compare and contrast the foreign policies of different countries and discuss variations in the foreign policy outlook of small, middle and great powers. Also, it will look into some of the most pressing topics on the current foreign policy agenda in different issue areas. In discussing these topics, particular emphasis will be placed on theory-guided analysis. While the module has a regional focus on the foreign policies of selected European countries, it will also cover issues related to the foreign policies of the US and the rising powers.
